

Bilfinger Berger Umwelttechnik – a Wide Range of Services

Bilfinger Berger Umwelttechnik combines the proven strength of brands like Bilfinger Berger, Passavant, Roediger, Geiger, Noggerath, Intech and Airvac - a group of companies that has become even more important in the world of environmental technology and one which provides significant advantages for operators, planners and investors. The brands continue to characterise the commitment and character of the individual companies and, taken together, they hold a leading position in the global market for environmental technology. In water technology, remediation of contaminated sites and in vacuum technology, these companies offer their knowledge, experience, performance and reliability to partners all over the world.

Wherever municipal or industrial wastewater needs to be purified and recirculated, where drinking water or waste needs to be purified and recycled to generate energy, Passavant-Roediger is a specialist in the construction of plants and in process engineering.

Passavant-Geiger's progressive and innovative mechanical engineering ensures the proper treatment of wastewater. The customer-oriented and experienced service which guarantees the smooth operation of facilities as well as the optimisation of all of those processes that are important for the transfer of purified water with reduced residues back into the natural bodies of water.

Complete solutions by Bilfinger Berger Umweltsanierung and Bilfinger Berger Entsorgung help with the remediation of contaminated sites and buildings as well as with the disposal of construction waste and production residues. State-of-the-art technologies guarantee reliable decontamination and waste disposal.

Complex and safe solutions in the range of negative pressure drainage and vacuum technology have been developed by Roediger Vacuum and Airvac. Economic and quality arguments often speak for the use of such environmentally-friendly technology. Our companies are market leaders in this technology.

Professional expertise, innovative ideas, comprehensive experience and enthusiasm for new solutions provide motivation to the staff of more than 900 employees at Bilfinger Berger Umwelttechnik. Our employees commit themselves every day to trying to understand the customers' needs and to create intelligent solutions that meet those needs.

Bilfinger Berger Umwelttechnik offers individual, well-planned and reliable solutions which not only benefit the customer but also help keep the world intact for mankind.
